Curriculum Development Update 2025

Over the past few years, we finished our elementary math textbooks and the 2nd edition revision of reading and language arts through Grade 8. Now we are shifting our focus to new science and social studies courses. Developing new textbook courses often takes more than five years, so it will be some time until these courses are available. We pray the courses available now and those being released in the future can be a blessing to you and your students.
